The Barn Youth Project (BYP) has been running since 1990 in the Park Barn and Westborough area of Guildford. It's aim is to provide safe, fun and interesting activities for young people to take part in and get involved with.

The BYP has a Youth Council made up of young people who attend project activities. The group come up with their own ideas to plan activities, develop projects, decide where money should be spent and help with fundraising applications.

BYP youth council members also attend the Guildford Youth Council and represent the young people in their area on issues that matter to them.
